

PRESS RELEASE

Hyper Switch, the new game of Inverge Studios

It will be available from May 24

Hyper Switch is the name of the latest mobile game released by the developer Inverge Studios. It is a game of simple mechanics, developed in just one month and which will be available from Wednesday 24th of May at the stores of Google Play (Android) and App Store (iOS).

The application comes to the market completely free, although it allows you to remove the ads for a small price (1.99€). It is an arcade runner game with 6 initial levels to overcome, where you will have to combine reflexes, memory and patience.

In Hyper Switch our character and the environment are really linked. To be able to go through the levels, we must learn to master the Switch – the main mechanic of the game – consisting of the color change of the character to swap its collisions with the level.

For our part, we think “it’s a game for people who like challenges. It follows the style of other well-known titles like Geometry Dash, but the change of color in the gameplay makes it completely different and a real challenge at a mental level. We have good perspectives with this game and we plan to expand it very soon if we observe a good response from users.”
